

Analysis of origin-related data (e.g. observed hatchery-administered marks, scales, fish length/weight, and dorsal fin condition) from the 2003-2005 PST reveals that the overwhelming majority of the postsmolts caught during the trawl were stocked as smolts.